Lord, grant us simplicity of faith and a generosity of service that gives without counting cost.

A life overflowing with grace poured out from the one who gave everything, that we might show the power of love to a broken world and share the truth from a living word.

Lord, grant us simplicity of faith and a yearning to share it. Amen

Give peace to the minds of those who are tortured by mental illness and anxiety. Comfort those who are alone in their illness. May Your people reach out to them and all who are in need this day. Lent 2021

Lent has begun!! We commence our Lenten journey together as we rejoice in hope and renew our commitment to be faithful to the mission of Christ and the Church.

Lent isn't just about giving something up for a time. It's about giving of ourselves for the sake of getting closer to God. We need to give up certain vices to make extra time to communicate with our Savior. Through giving up something and giving more of ourselves to God is a wonderful opportunity to commune with God, but we can always take things a step further.

Social media break – lets face it, during this time of the pandemic it is too easy to have our phones in our hands or checking our Facebook page, posting something to Instagram or sending a tweet. Put down the phone and free yourself from the technology dependency.

Stop the gossip – Gossip is one of the best things to give up during lent and continue to give up for the rest of your life. It can be difficult to keep from spreading news, but the reality is that too many of us spread news we have no right to spread, or that is based on assumption rather than facts.

Stop the criticism – as with gossiping, criticizing others seems to have become socially acceptable, but it shouldn't be. For Lent this year, consider keeping your words in check. Recall the old adage: If you don't have anything nice to say, don't say anything at all.

Take time to connect with your neighbour - especially at this time, its easy to get in a rut and focus on just yourself. Try to make an effort to keep in touch with your family members and neighbours. Drop off some baking or a good book for them to read. Make a commitment to call one friend or family member a day. Not only will you make their day special, you will feel the benefit too.

Count your blessings– There is so much we fail to realize and appreciate in our lives. Take this simple 40 day challenge and write one of your blessings daily. At the end of Lent, sit down and reflect on the blessings that you have in your life.

Get moving - Spend time focusing on taking care of the body that God gave you. For Lent, commit to doing some kind of workout every single day. You can go on a walk, or even workout at home.

Daily Prayer – Take the time daily to quietly sit and mediate, pray and reflect. Prayer helps you be humbled. Through prayer we come to realize how large the world is and how minor our problems are compared to it. When praying for other people we tend to sympathize to others' problems rather than be selfish. When praying positively, we tend to see a change in our overall attitude making us feel happy both mentally and socially.

Take part in Lenten services – Make an effort to watch our pre-recorded Sorokousty and Stations of the Cross. During Great Lent we are called to renew and strengthen our relationships with others (both living and dead) and with God. Sorokousty is a beautiful way to remind us that our Christian family reaches beyond our present time and space to encompass generations past as we remember all those who have gone before us. The Stations of the Cross helps us to discover and appreciate more and more the meaning of the suffering and death of Jesus Christ, and to unite our own earthly suffering with His.
